

Senior Ruby On Rails Developer

Who We Are?

Softensity is a US-based IT outsourcing company with over 1,800 best-in-class software developers and QA engineers around the globe. We are headquartered in Atlanta, GA, with development centers located in Belarus, Ukraine, Turkey, and LATAM. When you have better teams, you build better software. Let's do this, together!

Our client:

The client is a full-service digital transformation provider with locations in United States, Canada & India. They help companies maximize their impact to generate value and innovation.

Their vision is to become the world's most sought-after niche digital transformation company that helps customers realize value through innovation.

Main requirements

We are looking for long-term developers with great knowledge of Ruby on Rails for our web applications. We are seeking high-quality ROR developers with the following skills:

- Significant experience with Ruby 3.0+ on Rails 6.0+.
- Understands how to write efficient code.
- Writes automated tests for all new code by default, using gems such as RSpec.
- Front-end knowledge including HTML5, CSS and JavaScript.
- Uses Git for source code management.
- Experienced with Tailwind CSS.
- Ensures cross-browser compatibility (Firefox, IE, Safari, Chrome).
- Knowledge and use of RESTful coding.
- Knowledge about PostgreSQL and database optimization (indexing, efficient queries, etc.) is desirable.
- Linux server administration knowledge is desirable.

Why Join Us

We are passionate about top quality talent and giving our employees the tools, they need in order for them to keep on growing and learning. The sky is truly the limit and we want you to feel challenged and motivated in every single project that you're a part of all while working with cutting-edge technologies and amazing clients.

What To Expect

- Udemy Credentials.
- 15 workdays of PTO per year.
- Additional Stipend to cover health insurance.
- Unlimited time contract.
- Direct employee and B2B contract options available.
- Working hours according to European Time Zone.